FATHER MORAN'S SILVER JUBILEE.

A Popular Brooklyn Priest to be Present—With $50,000 Toward the

The Rev. M. J. Moran, who organized the Roman Catholic parish of the Nativity of Our Blessed Lord in Brooklyn, in 1871, and has been its rector ever since, is to celebrate the silver jubilee, or twenty-first year of his ordination to-morrow. The Church is in Clason Avenue and Madison Street, and the parish is among the most prosperous and wealthy in that city. He is one of the few irremovable rectors appointed by Bishop Loughlin a few years ago, in conformity with the decree of the Third Plenary Council of Baltimore. He is also one of the Diocesan Consultors.

He is a special friend of the children of the parish. More than half his life has been spent in the priesthood, as he is only now in his 49th year, having been born in Bethlehem, county Westmeath, Ireland, on June 24, 1842. He came to this country with his parents when he was a boy. He studied for the priesthood in the Seminary of Our Lady of Angels, Suspension Bridge, and on Dec. 8, 1865, he was ordained by the Rev. John J. Kane, Bishop of Brooklyn.

For three years and a half after his ordination he served as assistant in St. Patrick's Church in New York City.

He was rector of the Church of the Holy Cross in Flatbush. During his short stay in Flatbush he built the pretty little church in Parkville.

On Oct. 1, 1871, Bishop Loughlin appointed him to organize his present parish, which at that time contained very few Catholic families. He said his first mass in the parish in March, 1872, in the parlor of the present residence, but more than a year later he was in the parish.

The cornerstone of the present beautiful church was laid on May 19, 1872, and the church was dedicated on Oct. 1, 1872. The growth of the parish kept pace with the city, and although it has been cut from the parish, it is still one of the most thriving parishes of St. John's diocese, and St. John's diocese, the Nativity being a Catholic population of more than 3,500.

Connected with the parish are parochial schools with more than 500 pupils and twenty teachers, and the convent of the Sisters of St. Joseph. When the Sunday school was organized it had just one pupil. It now has more than 1,000. It was under Father Moran's direction that the custom of holding annual day school festivals in Prospect Park was inaugurated. When the children of the Nativity were to the Park last summer the members of the parish of St. John's were in the direction of the festival. Charles A. Lihier, Jr., is famous in the diocese, and it possesses one of the largest musical libraries in the country.

A committee, representing the congregation and all the church societies, was appointed several weeks ago to make arrangements for the celebration of Father Moran's silver jubilee. An address has been prepared and a purse, amounting to $1,500, has been raised. These will be presented to Father Moran to-night, in the evening of the congregation to be held in the Criterion Theatre. Father Moran will not accept the money on his own account, but will use it all toward paying off a debt which still rests on the church.

The celebration will take place at the church to-morrow morning. Father Moran will celebrate a solemn high mass of thanksgiving, and Bishop Loughlin and clergymen from all parts of the diocese will be present. Father Moran's silver jubilee is a rare event, and it is a pleasure to the parish that it is being celebrated in the parish of the Nativity.

Maureen Hickey, who was succeeded by the Rev. William McGuinness, the late pastor of the church, died on Dec. 1, 1899, at the age of 82. He was born in the parish of the Nativity, and he died in the parish of the Nativity.

A big Yankee ship coming.

BANCOB, Dec. 6.—Bail's monster ship, the Bancob, has been chartered to land general cargo at New York from San Francisco, and when she arrives in her port the Gothamites will have the pleasure of seeing the largest and also the finest wooden vessel that has yet been launched. This big fellow will carry 800 tons of coal as ballast on her trip to New York.

The full cargo of a good-sized three-masted schooner, just to keep her steady, and enough cargo can be stowed away in her capacious holds to keep her steady.

Her lines are very graceful, although she is so big, and her spars are as shapely as a woman's limbs. The rig is a full-rigged ship, and the rigging is as shapely as a woman's limbs.

Almost out of sight. A big schooner looks like a whalebone mine of her, and she is more than twice as large as the ordinary wooden ship of twenty years ago. When this product of a Yankee yard goes abroad with her 8,250 tons of register measurement, towering masts, and enormous spread of canvas, she is bound to create a sensation and do credit to the flag.
